CTS INSPIRATIONS

CTS NEWS

EDITOR'S NOTE

CTS is 80 years old this year. As one of the oldest and largest ATS chapters, we are proud of our record of innovation, education and professional development not just within ATS but the PCCM/S community in California and the nation.

CTS provides unique opportunities for academic and community physicians and respiratory professionals to acquire and hone valuable leadership skills by serving on CTS and ATS committees. Networking with colleagues from around the state enhances access to sponsorship and mentoring resources and also enables the development of a regional/national reputation required for academic advancement and career success. Furthermore, the camaraderie and collegiality that CTS offer are powerful antidotes for professional burnout and important for sustaining academic productivity. The home institution benefits as well, from the development of leadership talent within its faculty and the community outreach afforded by our conferences and forums.

This month we feature video messages by our Past President Laren Tan and President Vipul Jain describing how CTS quickly pivoted last year and continues to innovate to meet its member's needs during the pandemic. Just click on the links below.
